History

- Born January 30, 2002

- February 1, 2002: Abuse report in Scioto County, Ohio, alleging mother, Candace Myers, tested positive for Benzodiazepine while in labor, was found by hospital staff washing baby in cold water, putting infant in bed and covering him up with covers, and snorting crushed pills. There were concerns for her ability to care for the child.

- No prior allegations of abuse/neglect in Ohio
 - Drug of choice, crack cocaine
 - Previous treatment and relapse
 - Maternal grandparents and sponsor as support system
 - Grandparents signed a Safety Plan

- February 6, 2002: “Incident Conclusion.”

- Plan for future drug treatment in place
 - No judicial dependency action by Ohio

- May 2, 2002: Maternal grandparents obtain an Ohio court order giving them temporary custody of Gabriel.

- June 29, 2008: Florida abuse/neglect report (2008-425838) received, alleging “mom was found to have an extensive amount of xanax and several other pills in unmarked containers with pills. Mom appears to be under the influence. She is in and out and dozing off. Mom is being arrested for a warrant out of Ohio for violation of probation. Mom has a 6 year old son, Gabriel with her. He had been taken inside the restaurant and mom didn’t have a clue that he wasn’t in the car with her.”
 - ❑ An additional sequence was received the same date, stating: “On 06/29/08, additional information was received. On-going, Gabriel was sexually abused... [details] are not known at this time.”
 - ❑ Police found Gabriel’s mother, Candace Myers, unconscious in a parked, running vehicle with powder cocaine, alcohol, crack cocaine, marijuana and several non-prescribed medications.
 - ❑ Gabriel and his dog were in the car with her.
 - ❑ Protective investigator had mother sign a generic consent for medical treatment for Gabriel. The consent form was blank in the area where the specific type of treatment is supposed to be listed.

- Broward Sheriff's Office Protective Investigation found:
 - No Indicators* of Sexual Abuse because, during the Child Protection Team forensic interview, Gabriel denied anyone touched him inappropriately.
 - Some Indicators* of Physical Injury because Gabriel had visible marks, bites and bruises but they were "non-specific" and could not be definitely linked to abuse.
 - Verified Findings* of Substance Misuse due to Gabriel's exposure to drugs as reported in the police report and the hospital drug tests showed Candace Myers was positive for drugs and alcohol.
 - Verified Findings* of Threatened Harm due to conditions the child was in with his mother.
- The mother, Candace Myers, was listed as the Caregiver Responsible for the Verified maltreatments.

- June 29, 2008: Gabriel was removed from his mother's custody and taken to ChildNet's SafePlace while a foster placement was arranged.
 - ❑ With the child came a prescription bottle of Adderall XR 10mg; the medication appeared melted. Medication was prescribed by Dr. Variath in Ohio.
 - ❑ Initially it appeared as if SafePlace staff verified the prescription with Dr. Variath, however, further review showed staff contacted Stakers Pharmacy in Ohio to have the prescription refilled. For payment reasons, this could not be done until the grandmother brought a new prescription to the pharmacy. Once that was done, Gabriel's medication was sent overnight delivery to SafePlace.
 - ❑ Gabriel reported that while he was with his mother he administered his own medication.

- While at SafePlace, Gabriel completed the Therapeutic Intervention Emergency Services (TIES) assessment.
 - Gabriel exhibited below average reading and math during assessment.
 - The assessment reflected a diagnosis of ADHD.
 - “Client [Gabriel] is presenting as inattentive. Consider IEP need for diagnosed ADHD . . . child [Gabriel] states he does not remember school details [and] reports frequent fighting with peers and disruptive behavior requiring school discipline.”
 - On the TIES Event Rating Scale, Gabriel scored the most severe rating on all categories directly referencing issues regarding sexual abuse.
 - Under the Suicidal and/or Violent Behavior inventory, assessment documents “no present or historical suicidal indicators reported or observed” or risk of violence to others.
 - Gabriel reported to the clinician “someone inappropriately touched him underneath his bathing suit areas in a way that made him feel uncomfortable for more than once.” An abuse report was called to the Florida Abuse Hotline which resulted in the Additional call on the initial abuse report. A “D Alert” [sexual victim] also was initiated.

- October 16, 2008: Based on the report allegations, the Child Protection Team completed a medical examination and forensic interview with Gabriel that revealed:
 - ❑ Gabriel was placed in the McGuigan foster home the evening of October 13.
 - ❑ Foster Parent John McGuigan saw the bruise on Gabriel's buttock October 14.
 - ❑ Gabriel told foster father his uncle spanked him with a belt and told him "You want to know why I spanked on the butt, it was for lying and sneaking food. [Johnathon Myers] spanked because I got kicked out of [private school] for touching girls . . ."
 - ❑ Gabriel made disclosures that, while in Ohio where he resided with David Myers (maternal grandfather), there were a couple of sexually related incidents. Specifically, "he saw a movie at his grandfather's house and the girls did not have any clothes . . . boys and girls touched one another and that is where he learned the behavior of touching girls in school." In addition, Gabriel reported "I did something with a boy before [in Ohio] . . ." he said he touched [the boy's] penis."
This is the first documentation of concerns being raised regarding the maternal grandparents.
 - ❑ "Gabriel denied any suicidal thoughts or attempts. He said sometimes he has 'thoughts of killing other people,' however he stated he did not have a plan and there was not a person he had thought of killing."
 - ❑ The Child Protection Team report indicated "medical assessment supports the allegation of abuse/neglect."

 - ❑ “Gabriel’s behavior has deteriorated over the past week or so. Perhaps it’s related to his mother’s upcoming release, but I’m not sure.”
 - ❑ Mr. McGuigan referenced the school incident with the scissors, two negative reports from aftercare, and stated “he [Gabriel] is a chronic liar and lies to me, his school teacher, and his aftercare providers.” The child received repeated “bad behavior reports” due to his “bringing action figures to school each day and disrupting the class, playing with them and, of course, making other kids jealous that he has toys and they don’t . . . Tonight when he gets home, I’m taking away all his action figures, and he is getting a new haircut. The Mohawk is history. I’ll discuss all this with his therapist tomorrow evening.”

- February 24, 2009: Case manager received an e-mail from Mr. McGuigan stating:
 - “Gabriel’s behavior is getting worse and worse as we approach his mother’s release from jail.”
 - There had been several incidents reported by the school in reference to lying, stealing, and one incident of forging Mr. McGuigan’s name.
 - He had permanently taken away a number of Gabriel’s toys in response to his behaviors.
 - “Tonight is our last scheduled jail visit with his mom. She should be released on Thursday.”
 - Mr. McGuigan stated he would “like to mail her (Mother) a letter TODAY explaining that we will not be accepting any further phone calls on my telephone, and that I will no longer bring him in for visits.”
 - He requested the case manager contact him regarding any problem with his decision.

- February 25, 2009: Case manager received an e-mail from Mr. McGuigan providing the following information:
 - ❑ There had been an incident at school in which Gabriel was caught stealing money from another classmate with the intent of purchasing ice cream, and that Gabriel “begged the school not to call me, because I told him when I dropped him off this morning that if the school called me again I’d cancel his participation in our upcoming vacation plans. He begged the teacher to call Uncle J--, because ‘Uncle J-- will punish me even worse, and that’s what I deserve.’”
 - ❑ Mr. McGuigan stated he and the school were working with the therapist and psychiatrist to assist Gabriel and “about Mom and her correlation to his recent behavior.” He asked if he had the “discretion to stop the phone calls and visits with mom, or does she have a right to contact?”

 - ❑ Gabriel has “already lost all his toys, all his privileges, his Mohawk, and, for now, I’ve told him he CAN NOT accompany us on our family vacation to Massachusetts.”
 - ❑ Mr. McGuigan noted Gabriel had been informed he could earn back these items with improved behavior.
 - ❑ He expressed concern regarding Gabriel’s contact with his mother and the need to stabilize the child, stating the “therapist agrees contact with the mother should be limited or eliminated . . . I will NOT be taking him for any future jail visits,” and requested the case manager inform him if he has the ability to suspend these visits.

- ❑ Mr. McGuigan reported to the Y.E.S. clinician that Gabriel had " 'been out of control' and had thrown all objects in his room, including his TV, on the floor." He also advised the child became " 'uncontrollable' when F.F. [Foster Father] told Clt [Gabriel] he would get a red sticker instead of a green one for the day on his bx [behavior] chart."
- ❑ Y.E.S. Team responded to the home from 7:45 p.m. until 8:45 p.m.
- ❑ When the Y.E.S. Team arrived, the child was calm and was able to be engaged in discussing his behavior and redirection.
- ❑ Gabriel was diagnosed with Mood Disorder NOS (Non Otherwise Specify 296.90).

He was asked to direct the way and did so without any confusion . . . [when asked] if anything else was hurting his body, he stated no. He was asked if he felt like hurting himself or his body and stated: No.”
- ❑ Therapist was able to engage Gabriel in discussion of his coping skills and their application. Therapist further noted “client’s level of disruptive behavior in the last month has been escalating since his last placement change. Despite high level of involvement and observed level of structure and observed attention and care client is given in new foster family, his adjustment is poor . . . School, Child Find, this therapist have taken steps to alleviate client’s stress load” which are further delineated in the report. Therapist discussed with both parties schools’ desire to consider client for emotionally handicapped placement. Guardian [case manager] was asked to have client seen by his psychiatrist with Compass Health for medication management session. His acting out behaviors are becoming more severe and include destruction of property and the need to restrain him. Therapist stated if appt. should be considered urgent as client was not at risk of school suspension and expulsion from aftercare program... Child Find [ChildNet] guardian [notified] that client was deteriorating (swearing, destroying school property without being able to be redirected, fights at aftercare with other child and need to be restrained, need for restraint at school).” She indicated intervention was necessary to maintain this level of care. On 4/16/09, Gabriel used the extendable shower-head to hang himself in the bathroom. Gabriel had missed a couple of days from school because he was sick. Gabriel was being cared for by his adult foster brother, Michael [Miguel] Gould while the mother was at work. Gabriel became upset when Michael [Miguel] Gould prepared soup for lunch and Gabriel did not want it. Gabriel threw the soup in the garbage and went to his room where he began throwing his toys. Gabriel told Michael [Miguel] Gould that he was going to kill himself. Michael [Miguel] Gould called his mother and informed her of what Gabriel said about killing himself. Deficiencies

- None of the mental health professionals involved with Gabriel found he met the criteria for Involuntary Inpatient Commitment, Chapter 394.467, F.S., despite several occasions where he threatened, through word or action, to kill himself and/or others.
- A Family Services Planning Team (FSPT) meeting was not held until March 25, 2009, even though the private clinician hired by the uncle recommended residential placement of Gabriel on August 21, 2008.
- Case work practice and documentation indicate there was insufficient supervisory oversight from the ChildNet case management supervisor.
- Overall, the ChildNet case manager's documentation was poor, and the visitation forms contained boilerplate and inconsistent information.
- There was insufficient communication/coordination between the professionals involved with Gabriel.
- The ChildNet case manager and Kids in Distress took no documented action to preserve Gabriel's placement when Mr. McGuigan's emails clearly signaled the placement was in jeopardy.

- The Broward Sheriff's Office protective investigator had the mother sign a consent form for medical treatment on which the line to document the specific nature of the treatment was left blank and the mother's capacity to sign was questionable given her extensive drug use. This practice was not consistent with requirements in Chapters 394.455(9) and 394.459(3)(a), F.S.
- The Office of the Attorney General did not pursue with the ChildNet case manager the need to obtain informed consent or a court order for the medication (as required by Chapters 39.407(3)(b)3, 394.455(9), 394.459(3)(a), F.S.), even though the Judicial Review and Social Study Reports indicated Gabriel was taking psychotropic medication.
- There is no documentation Mr. McGuigan's actions in removing toys, Mohawk haircut, etc. from Gabriel and using the vacation to Massachusetts and Connecticut as leverage to get him to improve his behavior was discussed with or approved by the child's therapist prior to the action.

Deficiencies

- The ChildNet case manager did not make the school aware of the Therapeutic Intervention Emergency Services June 2008 recommendation that Gabriel would benefit from an Individual Educational Plan.
- Neither the Broward Sheriff's Office protective investigator nor Child Protection Team case coordinator generated an abuse report to Ohio after Gabriel said he had seen movies with nude "boys and girls" while with his maternal grandfather. This is required by Chapter 39.201, F.S. and Chapter 65C-29.002, F.A.C.
- The Broward Sheriff's Office protective investigator did not advise Ohio law enforcement after Gabriel stated he had a sexual encounter with a 12-year-old boy in Ohio. Ohio did not investigate this allegation until March 2009 when they were notified of the incident by the maternal grandfather. The allegation was substantiated.
- Neither the Broward Sheriff's Office protective investigator nor ChildNet case manager obtained a copy of Gabriel's Ohio child welfare history until after his death.
- The Gould foster parents did not comport with requirements under Chapter 65C-13, F.S.C. or the Bilateral Service Agreement.
